Huge Oil Fire Is Now Under Control

Kansas City, Sept. 3.—Fire in the huge oil tanks of the Pennsylvania Petroleum Co. in North Kansas City threatened this section of the town this morning. At 9:30 o'clock, three tanks, each containing 12,800 gallons of oil, had exploded, and an hour later the flames had been brought under control.

Enrollment at H. S. Opens This Morning

Juniors And Seniors Sign Up Today And Freshmen and Sophomores Tomorrow—No Figures Yet.

The Maryville High School enrollment for the season of 1925-26 was started this morning at 9 o'clock in the old library on the second floor in the high school building. Seniors and juniors expecting to attend the school for the year must enroll today in order that there may be no conflicts with other matters which will arise and command the attention of school officials.

L. L. St. Clair, principal, commenting upon the enrollment of the day said there was some indication of a banner junior and senior class but no figures would be made known concerning the enrollment before tomorrow noon.

The schedule for tomorrow includes sophomores and freshmen. From 9 until 12 o'clock the sophomores should report and in the afternoon from 1:30 until 4 o'clock the freshmen should sign up.

ANOTHER BUS SOON IN USE

BETTER SERVICE BETWEEN HERE AND ST. JOSEPH.

SCHEDULE OUT LATER

Three Trips Will Be Made Each Day From Both Cities—Hastings To Ohio Tonight.

A more extensive bus service between Maryville and St. Joseph will soon be inaugurated by C. R. Hastings, who now operates one car between these two points.

Mr. Hastings leaves tonight for Pique, Ohio where he will purchase a larger bus than he now has. He expects to return with this the early part of next week and the new schedule will be announced later.

Three trips will be made each way every day, Mr. Hastings said this morning but the hours of departure from the two cities have not yet been decided upon pending a contest which is now being held.

The Maryville-St. Joseph bus service is only the beginning of a more extensive transportation service throughout Northwest Missouri and later on more busses will be added, especially after the completion of the hard-surfaced roads in this section of the state.

Mr. Hastings started his service between Maryville and St. Joseph about four months ago and, according to reports, it has been very successful.

In commenting on the enlarged service Mr. Hastings said this morning that it would be largely governed by weather conditions and that no guarantees of any kind could be made until after the completion of the concrete road between here and St. Joseph.

Hopkins Man Injured As Truck Turns Over

Charley Fleming Suffers Four Broken Ribs and Broken Collar Bone—Resting Easy Today.

Suffering four broken ribs, a broken collar bone and many briuses but no internal injuries in an automobile accident early yesterday afternoon, Charley Fleming, agent for the Wilhoit Oil Co., at Hopkins, was resting fairly easy in the St. Francis Hospital this morning, and his chances for recovery exceedingly good, according to attending physicians.

Mr. Fleming was driving a Ford oil truck, returning to Hopkins from Siam, where he had delivered some gasoline. The truck was carrying about 100 gallons and while coasting down a hill near the Manley home, not far out of Siam, the gear was thrown out and brakes were futile in an attempt to retard the speed of truck down the hill. The truck had gained such momentum that Mr. Fleming was unable to make a turn at the bottom of the hill and the truck turned completely over pinning Mr. Fleming under it.

Two children returning from school discovered Mr. Fleming suffering from his injuries and secured aid at a nearby farm house. The Price ambulance was called and brought him to the hospital at Maryville.

The truck was badly damaged. However, the escaping gasoline did not catch fire.

MANY LEAVE FOR SCHOOLS

STUDENTS WILL SOON BE ON THEIR WAY.

IN VARIOUS STATES

University of Missouri Claims Five, Nebraska U. Three and Harvard Two—Others Favored.

Early September days will find interest turning to the proposed activities of the school set, which will soon be on its way to enter or resume studies at some school or university.

The University of Missouri at Columbia will claim Donald Williams, School of Law; Simeon Wright, Jarvis Bush, and Temple Allen.

Joseph Jackson, III, will return to Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo., which opens the middle of this month.

Miss Beverly Martin will attend Putnam Hall, a preparatory school at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., leaving Maryville about September 22. Her brother Forrest Martin, who has been attending the summer session of Choate Preparatory School, Wallingford, Conn., will enter Harvard University at Cambridge, Mass., for a regular collegiate course.

Miss Alsamene King will return to the University of Nebraska at Lincoln, leaving next Monday to resume her studies. Miss Lucille Gaugh and Miss Laura Margaret Raines will also enter Nebraska University.

Donald Bellows will return to the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Miss Minnie Evans will attend the National Kindergarten College at Chicago, which opens September 15.

Miss Catherine Remus will enter Drake University at Des Moines, Ia.

Jack Rowlett, who graduated from the School of Medicine, University of Missouri, last June, will take special work at the School of Medicine of Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

Loren Egley will enter his junior year at the School of Medicine of St. Louis University. John Costello will also resume his medical studies at St. Louis University.

John Allen De Mott will enter the School of Medicine of Washington University, St. Louis.

Russell Neil of Pickering will attend the University of California at Berkeley.

A number from Maryville will attend the State Teachers College here.

Rolla Man Is Named Dry Law Director

Louis A. Bruer Will Succeed W. D. Moss As Prohibition Administrator Missouri District.

Washington, Sept. 3.— Louis A. Bruer of Rolla, Mo., was named today as prohibition administrator for the Missouri district, with headquarters at St. Louis. Bruer has been general counsel for the public service commission of Missouri. He will succeed W. D. Moss, acting administrator, at once.

Should Get in Orders For Pyrotol Caps Now

The farmers in the county that are intending to use pyrotol for blasting purposes this fall should put in their orders with the county agent J. Ross Fleetwood, county agent, before September. The College has 250,000 caps available for distribution and Mr. Fleetwood is of the opinion these will be gone soon. Unless the government makes a new allotment to the state the supply will be exhausted according to the present indications.

Will Make Survey At Local Postoffice

A cost ascertainment survey will be made at the Maryville postoffice during the week of September 21-27, it was announced today. The survey is to determine the cost of handling the various classes of mail. A similar study will be made twenty-eight days of the year, seven days in each quarter and will be made a permanent requirement of postoffices in various sections of the country.

Miss Gladys Keever left yesterday for Chester, Ia., where she will teach in the intermediate department of the public schools. School opens next Monday.

Senator Farris To University Board

Rolla Man Is Appointed By Governor Baker To Succeed S. L. Baysinger Who Resigned.

Jefferson City, Sept. 3.—Governor Baker today appointed Senator Frank H. Farris of Rolla as a member of the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri to succeed S. L. Baysinger of Rolla, who resigned because of ill health.

Senator Farris is leader of the Democratic forces in the state Senate and formerly was chairman of the Democratic state committee. The appointment expires January 31, 1931.

Rio Grande River Flooding El Paso

Three Hundred Families Have Fled Lowlands—$300,000 Damage is Already Done.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 3.—Three hundred families have fled the lowlands of El Paso and are turning to refugee camps and $300,000 damage already has been done in El Paso as the Rio Grande River broke its banks today and is flowing through the city along the river front. The torrent is seven blocks wide.

Southern Pacific and Texas Pacific trains are being held up at Acerate, a suburb, where the levees are being dynamited.

Mayor H. P. Jackson has turned Washington Park into a refugee camp. Red Cross and Salvation Army workers are already giving aid to the refugees. Relief funds are being subscribed.

Farm House On Mrs. Bebout Place Burned

The two story house on the Mrs. Anna Bebout farm, seven miles west of Hopkins, was destroyed at noon today by fire.

Cause of the fire is unknown and it was not learned whether there was insurance on the building. The second story of the building was burned away before the fire was discovered. The furniture in the building was also a total loss. The damages had not been estimated early this afternoon.

Later reports indicate that fire was caused from a faulty flue, as Mrs. Bebout and her son Harold, had just returned from Maryville and started up a hot wood fire in the kitchen stove.

In attempting to save some of the contents of the house Harold Bebout was overcome by the heat, but was reported improving late this afternoon. The loss will be approximately $4,000 to $5,000. A smokehouse nearby also caught fire and was destroyed.

Burlington Junction Picnic Well Attended

The four day picnic at Burlington Junction, conducted by the Burlington Junction I. O. O. F., assisted by the other lodges in the county, is being well attended according to reports of those who were there yesterday. The shows put on by the lodges each evening have attracted many and the concessions have been doing a big business. The Tarkio lodge puts on a show there tonight and the Maryville lodge of the I. O. O. F. will put on a two hour entertainment tomorrow night.

Expect To Finish Sewer Job Saturday

Contractors for the sewer job on East Fourth and Third streets and on Newton street, expect to finish up the work by Saturday, according to the foreman this afternoon.

The trench will be completed today, the workmen working on East Third street this afternoon. The pipe has been put in on one of the streets and the rest laid tomorrow. About 3,000 feet of pipe is to to be laid for the sewers in the east part of the city on this one job.

Augusta Lunden Suing For Collection Note

Augusta Lunden instituted suit in the circuit court today for the October term of court against James O. Stafford and Emily D. Stafford for the collection of a note executed June 6, 1924. The plantiff is suing for the amount of the note, $409, interest $45, and attorney's fee of $100.

Social at Swan Chapel.

A social will be given tomorrow night at Swan Chapel, southwest of Maryville. Wray's orchestra will furnish music and a group of vocal solos by Miss Alyce Allen will be another feature of the program.

PB-9 FLIGHT IS CALLED OFF

WEATHER CONDITIONS HOLD UP SCHEDULED TRIP.

NO WORD FROM NO. 1

Search Continues Near Hawaiian Waters For Missing Naval Airship Flying From Coast.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—The flight of the PB-9, which was scheduled for tomorrow afternoon, was indefinitely postponed today following the receipt of an order from Secretary of Navy Wilbur.

Announcement to this effect was made by Capt. Stanford Moses, flight project commander.

"Weather conditions, which at first seemed favorable for the flight of the PB-9 have changed and from this standpoint, I feel that it is best to call off the flight.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—The trackless waters of the Pacific continued today to hide the fate of the naval plane PN-9 No. 1, missing more than thirty-six hours.

"No trace; still searching." This was the only report from the flotilla of naval vessels combing the waters three hundred miles off the Hawaiian Islands near the point where the big seaplane was forced to come down on its San Francisco Honolulu flight, with her gasoline out.

Fears for the safety of the crew continue despite optimistic hopes that the plane would be found.

Union Services Are Held At Graham

Union Sunday school and church services were held in the Chautauqua tent at Graham Sunday morning. All of the churches, Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian, were well represented. Two hundred and forty were present at Sunday school and the collection was $19.28.

Committees were appointed from each church to secure teachers and special musical numbers. Miss Rose Geyer was pianist and the following program was given:

Vocal solo—Carl Helzen.

Vocal duet—Miss Hazel Waugh and Mrs. E. L. Morgan.

Piano solo—Mrs. Ruby Acklin.

Dr. Frank E. Gardner, who spoke at the Chautauqua Sunday night, preached immediately following Sunday school.

Barn on Dredge Farm Is Destroyed by Fire

The large barn and contents on the Al Dredge farm, northeast of Elmo, caught on fire about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and was destroyed. Several tons of hay, and quantities of corn and oats were being stored in the barn at the time of the fire, which were consumed. The fire had made good headway before it was discovered.

14 ARE KILLED IN WRECK OF GIANT DIRIGIBLE SHENNANDOAH

HUGE AIRSHIP CRASHES NEAR AVA, OHIO.

DUE HERE TOMORROW

Was To Have Passed Over Maryville Late In Afternoon—Storm Blamed For Disaster.

Washington, Sept. 3.—The destruction of the giant navy dirigible took a toll of fourteen lives, the navy department announces this afternoon. The death toll, which included Commander Zachary Lansdowne, four other officers and nine enlisted men, was increased by an official report that Lieutenant Shepherd of Washington D. C., had been killed in the crash. Shepherd was previously reported as missing.

Cambridge, Ohio, Sept. 3.—Fourteen men were killed and twenty were injured when the navy dirigible Shenandoah broke in two near Ava, the front end falling to the ground and the rear end floating until reaching a point near Sharon, Pa., about ten miles south of Ava and then landing.

All of the killed and injured were in the front end of the ship.

The Shenandoah apparently was in trouble when it circled over Ava. The officers and pilot seemed to be trying to make a landing near this place. The ship struck a severe wind storm right after leaving Wheeling and the pilot was apparently trying to avoid the storm.

All of the men were killed when the cabin of the Shenandoah broke away and fell to the ground, the heavy engines falling on the men.

Several Still Missing

Reports from Ava were to the effect that several of the crew were missing. The crew apparently was having trouble with one of the engines. All five of the engines were running with the exception of one, which was apparently missing.

Just as the Shenandoah reached a point near Ava, all of the engines were shut off. The ship was floating near the tops of the trees when suddenly a gust of wind coming up from the ground struck the underside of the Shenandoah's framework about the middle of the ship. The valves in the gasoline cells could not stand the hard pressure of the strong wind and one of the cells exploded, the balloon breaking in two.

The front end of the Shenandoah fell on the Davis farm, about two miles west of Ava.

In trying to get out of the storm the Shenandoah floated about twelve miles out of its course.

Washington, Sept. 3.—Thirteen officers and men, including Commander Zachary Lansdowne, were killed when the great navy dirigible Shenandoah crashed in Ohio this morning, according to official dispatches to the navy department at 10 o'clock. The dispatch was filed by Lieut. Charles Rosendahl, navigator of the Shenandoah, who assumed command upon the death of Lansdowne. Rosendahl's message said:

"Definite information twelve dead one unaccounted for. Lansdowne dead."

A few minutes later he amended this, increasing the known dead to thirteen and said two others were injured in addition to the one man unaccounted for.

Shortly before 11 o'clock, Commander Jacob Klein was ordered to proceed from Lakehurst to Caldwell, Ohio by airplane to take command at the scene of the accident. The naval recruiting officer at Cincinnati was ordered to Caldwell to provide sustenance for the survivors and to arrange for the transportation of the dead to their homes and the survivors to Lakehurst.

All of the facilities of the army air service have been ordered to the navy by acting Secretary of War Davis.

Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 3.—The front part of the dirigible Shenandoah broke off while flying over Cambridge, Ohio, according to a telegram received at the naval air station here today from A. J. Hahn, ship's cook aboard the wrecked airship. The message read:

Wrecked at 5:30 Today

"Ship was wrecked at 5:30 o'clock this morning. Send ambulances and doctors from Byersville, Ohio. Fore part of ship broke off and was free. Balloon going southeast."

Efforts to compile list of injured early today proved difficult. The residents of the little towns nearby were too busy to ask the names of the persons to whom they gave aid. Even the undertakers did not take time from their grim work of preparing the broken bodies to answer their telephones. The extent of the disaster had stunned them so the only thing they could do was the obvious work of caring for the injured and preparing the broken bodies of the daring airmen for burial.

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 3.—"If any weakness of any kind had been discovered in the Shenandoah she would have not been permitted to make the trip," Commander Jacob Klein, in command of the naval air station here, declared today when told of the grim tragedy of the Shenandoah in Ohio.

Frame Work Tested

An inspection was made of the frame work of the Shenandoah just before the flight started at 4:02 p. m. yesterday, Commander Klein said. A formal report was made that the frame was in perfect condition,

"If the accident happened during a terrific storm, as reported, it could be that the tail surfaces fell off," Klein continued. "There would be no men in the tail of the ship, but if the tail surfaces were carried away, the Shenandoah would be out of control for the rudder and fins which control the ship are there. Then, if she got into a downward air current, she might have been carried to the ground. In that way, the men might have been killed and injured."

The ill-fated Shenandoah took off here yesterday under perfect weather conditions for Scott Field, Ill., near St. Louis. Lieutenant Zachery Lansdowne was in command of the ship which carried thirty-five officers and men.

Witness Tells of Crash

Belle Valley, Ohio, Sept. 3.—A great cigar-shaped monster, its side glimmering in the dawn as it glided gracefully through the heavens; a mighty roar was echoed and re-echoed through the silent countryside and then a drunken careening aloft, when the giant dirigible seemed to momentarily stand still and finally crashed to the earth.

This was a vivid picture of the wreck of the Shenandoah by an eyewitness of the disaster this morning.

"It was just at dawn and a few of us were watching the airship," he said. "It was a beautiful thing as it glided through the air. Then suddenly there was a roar that resounded over the countryside and the giant bag split. The largest section came down two miles east of Ava, but even after it was chopped in two, the main part of the ship did not crash to the earth. It seemed to stay up motionless for some time and gradually sink toward the earth.

"In my opinion it was this ease with which the main part of the ship struck the earth that saved the lives of the majority of the crew. All, of course, were seriously bruised and banged up."

The Shenandoah was to have passed over Maryville on its way to Des Moines late tomorrow afternoon. It was due in St. Joseph about 4 o'clock and would have arrived here about thirty minutes later, according to the schedule.

The Only Military Dirigible in Country

The Shenandoah was the only strictly military dirigible in the United States. The property of the navy, it

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

NOMADS OF 1925.

The neighbors are back from their long auto tour, and they have a lot of experiences, funny and provoking to relate, and an unearthly number of snapshots to exhibit.

Looking well, too, one could not fail to notice. The kids are wilder than ever, though. Don't know what those neighbors are thinking of, to bring up youngsters wild. But on the whole the entire family certainly has been the gainer.

Notice Mr. Neighbor, now. His step is springy, his laugh booms deep, he shakes your hand as if he were trying to crank an unruly tin lizzie of ancient vintage.

And Mrs. Neighbor—sakes alive! What will she do for clothes this winter? You remember how pudgy she was getting. Oh, of course we didn't tell her she was pudgy, we said plump. But meant pudgy.

And now she's thinner, and tall, and has the graceful carriage that her friends used to remark on so when she was younger.

Younger! That's the very word! The Neighbor family is all younger. A trip out west that took them six or eight weeks, camping by the roadside in that tent they carried on the running board, happy, tanned, carefree, living the life of nomads.

H. G. Wells says that all mankind falls into two divisions—the merchants and the wanderers. When Herbert's successor writes the history of this century, maybe he'll tell how the two were merged. We are a nation of merchants and we are becoming a nation of vacationists. If the neighbors could have a fine trip like that this year, how'd it be to hitch up the old gas buggy ourselves next spring, and start right out? 'Twould be fun.

ENTERING HIGH SCHOOL.

Thousands of young men and young women (they aren't boys and girls after they get out of the grades) are entering high school this year, and if they are the right kind of young people they will get the right kind of a thrill from this experience.

Entering high school is a epochal event in the life of anyone who is blessed with the opportunity. Most students never get beyond the graduation period in the high schools. After that they either go to work or loaf or do a little of each.

A great many young people who enter high school never graduate, and that is a very sad mistake for them to make, and a still graver mistake on the part of the parents providing the latter deliberately give their consent to a child leaving high school without graduating when it is not necessary.

The first day in high school marks the beginning of an important event in the life of the young man or young woman who enjoys the privilege of acquiring this important education.

There will come a time in the history of this country (and it is approaching rapidly nowadays), when a young person without a high school diploma is going to find things pretty hard in this life. For education is the stepping stone to success and independence and without it all is slavish labor and interminable discouragement. Those who enter upon high school life Monday are to be congratulated. They are marching over a royal road and paving their own life's highway so that progress will be smooth and sure.

SHALL WE KEEP THE PHILIPPINES?

Americans consume about seventy-five to seventy-seven per cent of the rubber production of the world. The Dutch produce nearly all the rest. Rubber is nowhere else in the world so important as it is in the United States. Nowhere else does life travel so extensively on tires. The British producer virtually controls the American consumer. That is not an accident. The British have earned their power. Rubber is an American product. The exploring and conquering whites in South and Central America found that a substance new to them was obtained by Indians from a tree.

Lasting empires require brains as well as swords. Great Britain has had both. The British had virtual control of rubber, obtained by foresight, and now they use it. A trade restriction limits the export of rubber from British plantations. Firestone, the American tire manufacturer, says the American user of rubber may have paid $300,000,000 more because of this restriction before the end of this year.

The United States has the Philippines, by conquest just as Great Britain has its Asiatic possessions. The American Department of Commerce, after investigation, reported last year that there were unlimited areas in South and Central America and in the Philippines for the production of rubber.

Filipino labor could be used in the Philippine plantations. No international arrangements would be required, but a greater military efficiency would be. The Philippines may be a great advantage or a great disadvantage to the United States, the one if they are defensible, the other if they are not. Ships, bases, and fuel oil at the bases—Hawaii is the great one we have in the Pacific—are the defenses. Defend the Philippines or let them go. Defend them and use them to their profit and ours.—From Liberty Magazine.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By Charles P. Stewart
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Emphatic as Uncle Sam's officials are, in saying that this country isn't going to forgive France the money she owes to us, even though England intends to do so, the fact remains that the French and British, between them, have managed to place America in an awkward position.

What France gets out of the bargain between her finance minister, M. Caillaux, and Winston Churchill, England's chancellor of the exchequer, is clear enough.

She pays 2 per cent on what she owes to the British, while the latter are paying off the United States. But she's never to pay the principal.

But what does England get out of it? Well, John Bull makes very few dickers that he doesn't think he sees a chance to profit by.

In the first place, France assumes the greater part of England's interest payments to the United States—the 2 per cent they agree to pay to the British while the British are paying America.

That's so much to the good.

On top of it, vow as they may that they won't do what Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill agrees to on behalf of the British the American representatives at the debt settlement conference are surely to be subjected to tremendous pressure to do it.

If by any possibility they yield, England assuredly will say she's entitled to as favorable terms as France and demand that the principle of her debt to the United States be cancelled also.

The French will put up a talk about like this:

"We were all fighting together. You Americans did part of our fighting with your money. You might as well expect us to indemnify you for the lives you lost as ask us to return the money you spent.

"Another thing, England jumped in and began helping us at the very beginning of the war. Yet she says we needn't pay her.

"Are you, who waited until the last minute, going to be any less liberal?" And finally, if you don't admit the weight of these considerations, here's something else for you to bear in mind.

"You declared war before you were ready to begin fighting and we held the line for you—protected you in fact—while you were getting up steam to go into action. How about a few billions' worth of financial recognition of what we did for you?"

One thing about men's fashions. Don't have to join the navy to get your trousers off over your shoes.

Take a man in the moonlight. And one with moonshine in him. One's about as wild as the other.

The height of many a man's ignorance is the way he lets a barber put grease on his hair.

Even if she does rouge nicely, find out if she can cook. Two can't live on rouge alone.

Distance doesn't lend much enchantment when the road is rough.

You naturally would expect a rising generation to get out of bounds.

CYPSIES BURNED ALIVE.

Moscow, Sept. 3.—Accusing them of being horse thieves, peasants in the Moscow suburb of Pushkin have burned alive two gypsies.

JAPANESE MIGRATE.

Tokyo, Sept. 3.—During the first seven months of 1925, a total of 4,020 Japanese left their native land as emigrants to foreign countries. Of this number, 3,061 migrated to Brazil, where the government offers special inducements to Japanese settlers.

Missouri Yearbooks Available.

The Missouri State Board of Agriculture, Jefferson City, Mo., has available a limited supply of state agricultural yearbooks to be had for the estimated actual cost of mailing, as follows, for Missouri-ns only:

Estimated postage on each copy of 1921 or 1922 yearbooks bound in cloth, eight cents each. For 1923 or 1921 Board yearbooks in soft covers, three cents each. Outside of 1st and 2nd zones, additional postage should be sent.

Libraries may obtain five copies each of any or all of the aforementioned yearbook editions on payment of postage.

Fill Each Silo This Year.

Missouri's September slogan is "Fill Each Silo this Year." This is the year to "Fill Every Silo."

The Missouri State Board of Agriculture joins with the Agricultural Committee of the Missouri Bankers' Association in urging the importance of and practical need for filling every usable silo in this state this season.

With rather high-priced corn and a not big hay crop, silage will be all the more desirable during the coming winter and spring. Silage is vitally important in dairy development, and it is also absolutely necessary in economic cattle production.

Fill that silo—it will pay, in every way!

Kept His Head Cool.

Stonewall Jackson once found himself surrounded with only one way to escape and this was over a bridge raked by a battery of the Federal Army. He calmly pulled his cape over his gray uniform, rode up to the battery and said: "Boys, you have this battery in the wrong place; move it to that eminence," pointing to a hill a short distance up, "limber up and be in a hurry." The order was obeyed and while the artillery was taking the new position Stonewall rode safely over the bridge and away.

Edith—Haven't you and Jack been engaged long enough to get married?"

Ethel—Too long! He hasn't got a cent left.

The Janitor—How did you come ter lose yer job?

Ex-Office Boy—Mine and the boss's grandmother died on the same day.

J. R. King Markets Cattle At St. Joseph

J. R. King of Nodaway County marketed on the St. Joseph market Tuesday a load of 884 pound steers and heifers at $10. Most of the offerings were blacks of Mr. King's own raising.—St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal.

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS.

Old Age Should Be Happy—Not A Time of Sickness and Suffering.

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary ills and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's.

Here is Maryville proof:

T. J. Puckett, 521 S. Market St., says: "A cold disordered my kidneys. Sometimes when I stopped, sharp catches took me through the small of my back and it was hard to raise up all at once. Then, too, a dull aching set in across my back and kept up two or three days at a time. Finally, I used Doan's Pills and several boxes from Gaugh & Evans' Drug Store rid me of the attack."

SAME FINE BROUGHAM at a new reduced price

INCREASED volume of sales—founded on Studebaker's policies of one-profit manufacture, and no yearly models—made it possible to reduce the price of this Special Six Brougham by $100.

Here is a car that will appeal to buyers who seek unusual distinction of appearance with economy.

Many of the superiorities of this one-profit Brougham are hidden until revealed by thousands of miles of usage. You can't see the fine workmanship and materials inside the engine and body which give excess mileage. But here are some things that you can check against competitive cars to satisfy yourself that this is a Studebaker of the same fine quality as before the price cut—a Studebaker more up to date than the newest yearly models.

The body is lacquered with satin-black top. Oval rear-quarter windows, smartly tilted, and black landau top braces, enhance its appearance. There are four wide doors and both seats are full width.

WOOL UPHOLSTERY—Durable.

INSTRUMENTS—Including 8-day clock, gasoline gauge, speedometer, oil pressure gauge and ammeter, in single grouping under glass, on beautiful silver-faced dial.

FULL-SIZE BALLOON TIRES — For which the steering gear, fenders and even the body lines are specially designed.

AUTOMATIC SPARK CONTROL — No spark lever on steering wheel, but:

SAFETY LIGHTING CONTROL — On the steering wheel, at the driver's finger tips.

IMPROVED ONE-PIECE WINDSHIELD — Automatic windshield cleaner, weatherproof visor, rear-view mirror, cowl lights, extension lamp, and cowl ventilator.

CO-INCIDENTAL LOCK — To ignition and steering wheel, which serves to reduce the theft insurance rates — single key operates this lock as well as that on the door and the clever device on the spare-tire carrier.

COMPLETELY MACHINED CRANKSHAFT — To obtain perfect engine balance and thus reduce vibration to a minimum.

There are only two cars manufactured on the one-profit basis: Studebaker in the fine car field, and the Ford in the low priced field. Only in these two cases does one company in its own plants make all bodies, all engines, all clutches, steering gears, differentials, springs, gear sets, gray iron castings and drop forgings.

Come in and see this Brougham. You will find it the same fine car as before the price reduction.

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Awful Pains and Misery Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lima, Ohio.—"I want to tell you how your medicine has helped me. For weeks I suffered with awful pains from inflammation and I was in such misery that I had to bend double to get relief. I could not be touched or jarred, had awful pain all over my abdomen and could not touch my feet to the floor. It was impossible for me to straighten up and the pains never ceased. I took treatments for some time and finally was told I would have to have an operation. I do not believe in operations and I had read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I told my husband I would try it before I gave up. I soon began to feel that it was doing me good. The awful misery began to leave me, also the backache. I have a good appetite and am gaining in weight. Taking this medicine was the best thing I ever did. I feel like it has saved my life and I do not hesitate to say so to my friends. At least it has saved me from a dreaded operation and I am still taking it. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about the medicine." — Mrs. ETHEL THURSTON, 324 North Pine St., Lima, Ohio.

800 Are To Attend Diamond Jubilee

Shelbyville, Ill., Sept. 3.—Approximately 800 delegates are registered at the Diamond Jubilee convention of the Disciples of Christ of Illinois. Besides the delegates to the church meeting, delegates are here to attend conferences of the Illinois Christian Missionary Society, Illinois Christian Women's Missionary Society, Illinois Disciples Foundation, Illinois Centennial campaign and Eureka College.

Scripps Howards Are Behind Editor Magee

Cleveland, O., Sept. 3.—The Scripps Howards Newspapers are behind Carl C. Magee, editor of the Albuquerque State Tribune, to the limit, George B. Parker, executive editor of the papers declared in a statement dealing with the murder charge that stands against Magee.

"A struggle against political corruption, such as Magee has been through, has meant years of constant danger from physical violence" Parker declared.

"That an innocent man who was shot during the attack upon Magee by Ex Judge Leahy was the saddest of tragedies, but regrettable as that accident was it does not alter the fundamental position of Magee's right to defend himself. When the story of Leahy's attack was first revealed Robert P. Scripps wired Magee, 'The concern stands back of you now as always.'

This statement precisely sums up the attitude of the organization."

Mystery Man N. Y. Liquor Investigator

Washington, Sept. 3.—Walter A. Green of New York "mystery man" in the new dry organization headed by General L. C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury, has been sworn into office as "chief prohibition investigator" of the United States.

Green immediately took over a suite of offices in the old prohibition unit and began organizing his department. He will have a corps of trained agents under his direction to break up international liquor conspiracy rings.

"We do not intend to make public our plans," Green told the United Press in an exclusive interview. "My force will be small but every man will be an expert investigator.

"Under-cover work will be our specialty. After results are produced we will tell the public about them, but we do not intend to announce our plans and thus give bootleggers an opportunity to adopt tactics that would give them an advantage.

"The first thing I want to do is to move out of the building I have been assigned to. Can't even smoke down there, for it isn't fire proof and I'd have a hard time keeping a detective who couldn't puff a cigar."

Houston Shields.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Houston of Burlington Junction announce the marriage of their daughter, Lois, to Ralph Shields, also of Burlington Junction. The wedding took place at high noon yesterday at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. E. N. Garrett, pastor of the Burlington Junction Methodist Church, performed the single ring ceremony. Miss Mable Houston, her sister, as bridesmaid and Donald Richardson of Shambaugh, Ia., was best man. The ceremony was witnessed by the immediate relatives and Miss Mabel Willsie of Shambaugh, Ia., who played the wedding march. The bride's gown was of lavender flat crepe trimmed with silver lace and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served. Garden flowers were used throughout the rooms.

Surprise Farewell Party.

In farewell compliment to her cousin, Mrs. Irwin Will, who left this morning for a residence elsewhere, Miss Ella Noll arranged a surprise lawn party last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. James on E. Park avenue. During the arrival of the guests, who included officers of Rosanna Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Miss Merle Ford served punch. Others assisting Miss Noll in entertaining were Miss Gladys Ford, Miss Lois Cummings and Mrs. L. E. Ziegler. America and guessing contests were the entertaining features and in the former diversion J. E. James won first prize and Mrs. Albert Appleby, the booby favor. The high and low prizes in the contests were awarded to Mrs. Appleby and Mrs. Ed Hamlin. Mrs. Wills, who held the office of Martha, was presented with an Eastern Star pin as a token of appreciation for her services. Refreshments of ice cream and wafers were served and the guests received candy favors.

The guests included Jonathan Stark, Mrs. E. B. Woodward, Miss Gladys Ford, Mrs. L. E. Ziegler, Miss Margaret Lee Winston, Mrs. W. B. Heryford, Miss Lida Ambrose, Miss Lois Cummings, Miss Merle Ford, Mrs. Albert Appleby, Miss Rosella Froman, Mrs. James Hantze, Mrs. W. A. White, Mrs. C. A. McCoppin, Miss Margaret Sorrie, Mrs. Burt D. Null, Miss Maymo Heflin, Mrs. I. E. Tulloch, Miss Hettie Mae Woodward and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. James.

Picnic at Bridgewater.

A family picnic will be held late this afternoon at Bridgewater in honor of several visiting relatives. In the party will be Mrs. B. L. Thrailkill of Clarinda, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. William Armstrong and James and Hugh Armstrong of Maryville, the Rev. and Mrs. J. Arthur Dillinger and son, Billy, of St. Joseph, William Lee Armstrong of Hollywood, Calif., and Dr. Margaret Armstrong of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Entertains Maryville Guests.

Misses Lenore and Rose Schumacher, Mrs. Eldon Irvin, Mrs. Frank Schumacher, Mrs. Edgar Rhoades, Mrs. H. S. Dowell, Mrs. Conrad Yehle and Miss Della Grems spent the day in Barnard yesterday, the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Ova C. Goff. Bridge furnished the mode of entertainment during the afternoon. The favors for high and second high scores were won by Mrs. Edgar Rhoades and Mrs. Frank Schumacher.

Honoring her house guests, Miss Katherine Koch and Miss Agnes Koch of St. Joseph, Miss Halcyon Hooker entertained informally at bridge this morning at her home on North Main street. The high-score prize was won by Miss Mary Lewis, and the guest favor went to Miss Agnes Koch. The visitors arrived yesterday to be the guests of Miss Hooker until Friday.

Judge Labors

J. W. Woodrough, judge of the U. S. district court at Omaha, is spending his vacation by working as a common laborer on a public garage he is building as an investment. Labor union rules prevent him from doing skilled work, so he carries mortar and bricks and does other kinds of common labor. Before starting out in overalls at 7 a. m. he plays a round of golf on the links of the fashionable Lakoma club.

Gary Calls Attention To Highway Laws

Head of State Commission Declares Relocation of Route 2 Across State Is Legal.

Jefferson City, Sept. 3.—Denial that the Missouri highway commission acted "without any authority of law" in changing the route of highway No. 2, the St. Louis-Kansas City, crosstate "air line" road to a point seven miles north of Fulton, as alleged in the road injunction suit by eighteen Fulton and south Callaway county citizens, was made late yesterday in a statement by Theodore Gary, chairman of the commission, issued from the highway department.

In making the denial, the statement cited the section of the state road law which provides that the commission may make changes in the higher type roads "in the interest of economy and directness of routes" and declared "that the petitioners' general charge of lawlessness against the oath-bound members of the commission are based on suspicion, tinctured with interest."

Change Was Legal.

In pointing out that section of the law authorizing the commission to change routes on the higher type roads, Chairman Gary's statement said that the Callaway county petitioners, "in their repeated asservations that the commission acted without any 'authority of law,' conveniently ignored this important provision."

"It is my belief," the statement said, in commenting on the relocation of highway No. 2 near Fulton, "that the commission has not only followed the law, but its course has been approved by the people at the last November election in voting on proposition No. 5.

"Certainly there was no malice against any place in making the changes. All were made solely 'in the interest of economy and directness of routes.' All were based on unanimous reports of competent engineers."

Speaking of the changed route in north Callaway county, the statement declared, "that there is a saving of nine miles in distance and over $250,000 in construction costs, to say nothing of perpetual maintenance for the extra distance and the increased cost of operation and maintenance estimated at $1,000,000 to the great mass of users of the road (No. 2) forever."

Route Ideal.

"The assistant chief highway engineer of Wisconsin, who studied the Missouri state highway system and administrative methods of the commission, declared route two was the best highway layout in the world. It is 246 miles from the Kansas City postoffice to the St. Louis postoffice. It's under a grade of six per cent. It has no sharp curves. It has only two places of possible congestion, at Boonville and St. Charles, because of bridges. It is 15 miles shorter than any other route the engineer could find. The counties it traverses and the two terminals comprise 40 per cent of the population of Missouri, north and south, make it serviceable to vast additional populations desiring to go east and west.

"The state highway commission has no feeling against Fulton; it wants to serve the town, and feels that it is doing so in the location that has been selected."

ARKOE.

Church.

Sunday School was held in the M. E. Church with 77 persons present.

The Kings Daughters class taught by Mrs. D. W. Sumy was the banner class of the day with 14 members present.

Of Childbirth

THOUSANDS of mothers for over three generations have praised Mother's Friend for relieving them of unnecessary pains during expectancy. How important it is that the Mother-to-be should pass this period with calm nerves. The sweetest story ever told is the soul-whispering of mother to her unborn child! Mother love and expectancy—be prepared to make this dream a reality.

"Everyone was surprised how well I got along." Writes Mrs. Alfred E. Ammon, Muncie, Ind. "My pains disappeared after using Mother's Friend and I was sick only an hour and a half at baby's birth."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician. It aids the muscles and tissues to expand more easily during the constant readjustment of expectancy, month after month, right up to childbirth. Plain oils only penetrate the skin. Mother's Friend penetrates deeper and soothes the broad muscles of the abdomen, back and hips; making them soft and pliable—thus really aiding Nature to do her part.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 33, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

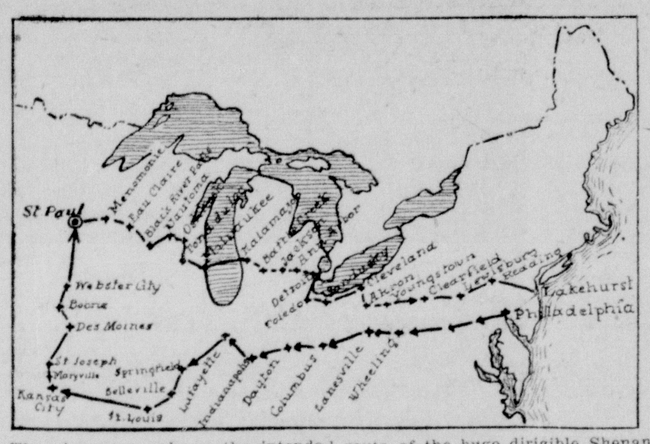
Intended Route of Shenandoah



The above map shows the intended route of the huge dirigible Shenandoah, which was destroyed in Ohio this morning. L. L. Perrin, city editor of a St. Paul Newspaper and son of Mrs. A. R. Perrin of Maryville, had his home town put on the map but it is in the wrong place.

L. L. PERRIN AIDS IN PUTTING HIS OLD HOME TOWN ON THE MAP

The following is a communication to the Democrat-Forum and Tribune from L. L. Perrin, son of Mrs. A. R. Perrin of Maryville and city editor of the St. Paul Pioneer Press. Mr. Perrin's map, however, shows Maryville south of St. Joseph instead of its ordinary location. The communication follows:

Dear Jim:

Up until yesterday I never had hoped to be instrumental in helping put Maryville on the map. But when our artist brought a map showing the route of the coming flight of the Shenandoah to my desk for an engraving room order, I jokingly remarked that the map was no good because it didn't show Maryville. So what did the artist do but go back to his desk and mark in the old home town, as the enclosed will bear witness. I am enclosing a mat, in case you can make a cast and wish to use it in the D-F. I have been noting in the Democrat-Forum that the Shenandoah likely will fly over Maryville.

You will know that I feel like a real old timer when I tell you that the most interesting thing in the paper to me, is the "Twenty Years Ago" column. We run a "25 years ago" in the Sunday Pioneer Press, which of course never meant a thing to me, but I can realize now how interesting it must be to persons who have lived in the parts for a long period.

Mrs. Perrin and I recently had a fine visit with Mother and Lottie. I hope to come to Maryville next summer—may motor down, if the old bus holds together that long. If you ever come vacationing to Minnesota be sure to come to St. Paul and look me up.

Yours truly,
L. L. Perrin.

Why Be A Druggist?

To be one it takes long years of study, the passing of hard examinations under state supervision, a big investment in stock, long hours of tedious work, a willingness to be a bureau of information for an entire community and a tender, sweet disposition that can't be ruffled by anything less than boys throwing bricks at the front window! YET! ALSO BUT! I wouldn't want to be in any other work, for I love this business with all its ALLEGED hardships and I wouldn't swap jobs with anyone in the county. That's the sort of druggist I am!

SCHOOL TOOLS

Chief tablets, both 10c size and 5c ones, pencils, ink, erasers, fountain pens—and just anything your teacher wants you to get for school.

FOR DAD—

Has your razor been scratching your face lately and do you have to put in new blades every time you use it? Well just try ONCE an Auto-Strop razor. Uncle Sam thought so much of them that he gave all his soldiers Auto-Strops. They sell for $1.00 and you get a razor, strop, and ease.

A DOLLAR PEN

We've got a dinger of a shiny fountain pen and for only ONE DOLLAR. It's silver and is called a Ultigraph and it won't leak ink on your hands neither because it's made right.

FLASH LIGHTS—ONE BUCK.

All first class—New York burglars use the Ray-o Light flashlight. Reason is that they're dependable, handy size and economical.

CORNS

Adam never had a corn. Neither did Eve. Neither wore shoes. There WERE no drug stores. Times have changed, but WE have kept step! We have 11 kinds of corn cures, only 5 of which are worth a dern. Ask us.

FACE MUSIC.

All you kids can whistle! If you can whistle you can play a mouth organ; only with an organ you get full, rich resonant chords that make your eles roll and the thrills play tag on your backbone. Mention this to your dad!

P. S.—We have French harps that make mean music.

Good Program for The Hopkins Picnic

(Hopkins Journal)

According to Harry A. Dalby, chairman of the general committee, arrangments have been about completed for the big three days picnic to be held in Hopkins, Sept. 9, 10 and 11.

The farm products display will be at the lumber yard of Jackson, Sherry & Co., while the poultry will likely be exhibited in the wareroom of Mutti & Brown.

The fancy work and canned fruit, cakes, bread, etc., will be arranged in the vacant room just north of Fred Gray's, in charge of Mrs. Nora Coleman.

The horse show will be held the second day and R. A. Turner will give you any desired information.

Roy King will be in charge of the poultry, Mel Sheley in charge of the farm products and Wm. Alexander will look after the cattle and hogs.

The street fair features will include a Ferris wheel, bowling alley, merry-go-round, side shows, etc., and there will also be foot races, pony races, riding and driving contests, etc.

37,000 Farms In Missouri Have Radios

Washington, Sept. 3.—More than 550,000 farms in the United States, 37,000 of them in Missouri, and 35,000 in Kansas, are equipped with radio. The department of Agriculture makes this estimate following a nation-wide survey through county agricultural agents. A similar survey in 1924 showed 365,000 farms with radio sets, and in 1923 only 145,000 such farms.

Farmers in the corn belt section are the greatest users of radio. Illinois with 46,000 sets on farms leads the list. New York and Iowa are next, each with 39,000; the number on Nebraska farms is 34,000.

M. F. A. Convention Notes Held at Sedalia

Several Were In Attendance From Nodaway County—Jordan Endorses Contract.

The ninth annual convention of the M. F. A. was the largest ever held, there being an attendance of over 13,000 farmers in Sedalia, August 24, 25 and 26. There were 70 counties represented with 1375 M. F. A. and 1326 W. P. F. A. delegates, and quoting the words of J. Kelley Wright, a member of the State Board of Agriculture, "beyond any question, the M. F. A. Convention is the greatest Farmers crowd ever assembled in the United States. I don't know where they will find a place large enough for the crowd next year."

Among those from Nodaway County, attending the Convention were, Mr and Mrs. Miles Spargur; Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Kennedy and Fletcher Bainum of Sheridan; T. M. Cox and Truman Young of Parnell; George Standerfor, J. W. Moss and son, of Ravenwood; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Goforth and Miss Blanch Whiteford, of Guilford; Mrs. J. A. Jobe, Mrs. Ernest Ingram and M. L. Griggs, Barnard; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gex, Graham; Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and Thomas Tallon, Maryville; Ernest Ingels and John Bosch, Pickering.

The names of 1559 new members were turned in during the Convention.

Nodaway county was represented on the program by Miles Spargur, Sheridan, and Carl McArthur, a former Nodaway County boy, but now a Fieldman for the M. F. A.

Mr. Spargur spoke Sunday afternoon, August 23, on "Building a Rural Sunday School." He commented on the number of vacant and apparently deserted Sunday school and church buildings he had noted on his drive to Sedalia. He declared it a grave mistake on the part of any community to neglect its religious functions and asserted that those religious education is neglected cannot live to the fullest.

He further stated, religious training should be furthered in the home, school and Sunday school. Its lack, though business and social education may be complete, means one's life is unbalanced. Faith and work in any community, with the assistance of proper guidance will serve to revive interest in Sunday School and church work.

C. A. McArthur, formerly of Pickering, now of Trenton, spoke on "Getting the Business Men Into the Fight." He said in part, "We want the business men in our organization, not as directors or leaders, but as co-operators in our projects." "If they co-operate with us and make farming better the cities and small towns are bound to be better. We must use persuasion rather than attempt force."

Jordan Endorses Contract.

"The Producers' Contract is the only way out. I wouldn't hesitate ten minutes in signing it if I had anything to market," said Sam Jordan, Lecturer for the State Board of Agriculture, at the M. F. A. Convention in Sedalia.

"We have been depending on a world market too long to get us the high dollar for our products. Instead it has built up the most expensive marketing system in the world and the poor farmer is now paying the bill. A producers' Contract is, in my judgment, essential if the standard of American Agriculture is to be maintained. It is the farmers who are "outside" farmers organizations who are damaging the cause of the farmer and not the retail merchant or business man," Mr. Jordan declared.

Mr. Jordan suggested that pressure of some sort be brought to bear on those outside and compel them to enter the farm organizations for their good and also that of their fellowman.

The business of feeding and clothing the world is the most essential of all industry and the farmer has an inherent right to market his own products in an orderly manner which can be realized only through combined action or organization. The farmers should be careful to keep up the fertility of the soil and to produce in the most economical manner which would be practicable but after the products are ready for market, the producer should have some selling rights.

"The Producers' Contract is a human document As time progresses, it may need some changes but the Constitution of the United States was not perfect as it has been amended 19 times since the original adoption."

Mr. Jordan's address brought a great ovation from the crowd as he voiced the sentiment of the Convention in endorsing the M. F. A. Contract.

Hopkins Man Comes To Maryville Firm

(Hopkins Journal).

P. H. Stewart has resigned his position with the Pierpoint Sales Company of Omaha, to accept a place in the dry goods department of the Remus Mercantile Company of Maryville and began work for this firm Tuesday morning. He is an experienced dry goods man, having been with the Wolfers Mercantile Co., of Hopkins for 30 years and before this firm retired from business, was the manager of the store. He is not only a good dry goods man but is a good citizen and Hopkins sure hates to lose him and his estimable wife but we congratulate Mr. Remus in securing such a competent man. Mr. Stewart expects to sell his property here and for the present will rent a furnished apartment in Maryville, leaving his furniture here until the house is sold.

CLEARMONT.

Clearmont is still on the map. Though rather quiet. Several of our citizens have been attending the Des Moines fair, have had no report so far.

Mr. and Mrs. Odt Holbrook and daughter, Crystal, Clarence Holbrook and family expect to start, by auto, to Osceola Mills, Penn., Wednesday morning to be gone about six weeks.

Elaine Harman is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Stuart near Fortescue. Mrs. Stewart is a niece of Mrs. Harman.

D. M. Gray, a brother of Mrs. Sam Davison, daughter, Mrs. Lou Heizer, husband and children, Ive Fern, Elwayne and Dana from Blackwell, Okla., are visiting relatives in Clearmont.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kelly and daughter, Hattie Irene, and Mrs. H. C. Kelly are here from Denver, Colo., visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith. Mrs. Bert Kelly is a daughter of Mrs. Smith.

Next Sunday is the regular preaching day at the M. E. Church, services at 11 a. m. and 3 p. m.

Byron Sowers, Mrs. Sowers and Judge Sowers started to California Monday morning. They expect to spend at least six weeks on the road visiting a few relatives but spending most of the time camping and resting, hoping Mrs. Sowers will regain her health.

As every body is busy the first meeting of the Parent-Teachers will be held the 2nd Friday night of September instead of the 1st Friday night; a good program will be given and refreshments served. Everybody interested in this community come—do your part.

School begins next Monday, September, 7th. We have the same teachers as last year so we know we'll have another successful term, some improvements on the school grounds help too. One of the best is a new cement walk.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Whilaee have lately purchased a nice block of land in the South East part of town. They expect to put in a fine swimming pool and build a modern house. Good luck to you folks.

The W. C. T. U. re-organization resulted in the election of Mrs. Chas. Lemon, Pres.; Mrs. Kern, Vice-Pres.; Mrs. Will Linebaugh, Treas.; Miss Olive Carpenter, Sec. The society voted to send Mrs. W. W. Laughlin as a delegate to the State Convention to be held at Columbia, Mo., Sept. 29-30, Oct. 1-2, 1925. All reports show the work is going on. The World Convention held in London last June have a wonderful report. Our U. S. A. delegate was Fannie L. Taylor, "Our" Anna A. Gordon opened the session.

When Business is Good

SATURDAY night is a mighty good time to ask yourself this question: "Is our community sending more money out of town than is coming in each week?" Of course the only safe answer is "NO!"

This means that we folks in this neighborhood must patronize local supply men and merchants if we expect our town to prosper and "stay on the map."

Frankly, it means that every citizen will find it most profitable to read the advertisements in this paper every issue, and to follow their good advice.

Our advertisers are all personally interested in this town—and in YOU. They are helping you build a better home community. When business is good, their profits are being shared with you in an endless chain of co-operative betterment.

Heavy Mortality Due to Little Insects

The famous scientist, Prof. A. R. Wallace, was once asked what was the most dangerous beast he had encountered in the course of his tropical travels. Though he had roamed through the haunts of the jaguar, the peccary and the giant anaconda, he declared that he was most afraid of the wild bee. Kipling has a story about the terror of the wild bee, when it is numbered by countless millions, which gives a graphic picture of what that danger can mean.

There are certain species of ants, both in Africa and South America, before the march of which nothing can live. The fiercest and strongest and most agile beasts must give way to them.

Though many thousands of deaths are attributed to snake bites in India every year, this mortality is slight compared with the toll taken of human life by malarial mosquitoes in various parts of the world. Had the neighborhood of the Panama canal been infested with lions or tigers, the work would have gone on merrily, but the awful mortality caused by these tiny insects defeated its first builders. South Africa has suffered from locusts a thousand times more than it ever suffered by reason of all the wild beasts within its borders.

Message of Centuries Long Past Discovered

The British museum has come into possession of a group of ancient manuscripts which include two of the oldest pieces of paper known to exist on the earth. These letters are supposed to have been indited 1,900 years ago and were found by Sir M. Aurel Stein in the ruins of military stations along the ancient wall dividing the Chinese empire from Turkestan. The two scraps of paper in question are tattered fragments, one about as big as a street car ticket, the other twice as big. Parts of two sentences of Chinese characters are legible on one—" . . . making a profound salutation (kowtow) says . . ." and " . . . hoping that Mr. Hsieh Yung-ssu may under all circumstances enjoy good health . . ." On the second fragment are the words " . . . as soon as the foot soldiers arrived, he sent . . ." The other pieces were found in different parts of China. One of these, thought to be 1,500 years old, seems to have been written by a wife complaining of the shortcomings of her husband who, she says, has ruined a bright career by his debauchery.

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—General strength in corn was the dominating feature in grains in today's session on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat ran into spirited buying. The market opened steady to a shade higher. Buying power at the start showed improvement but the mixed undertone obtaining caused traders to pursue a most cautious course.

Corn's advance was the result of increasing news of crop complains from the continued hot weather now blanketing the principal producing areas.

Prices of oats were carried to a higher levels by strengths in other grains.

Heavy selling induced by weaker hogs and small demand weakened provisions.

Funny Farewells

Whatever dallying may have preceded it, the actual parting of a Briton and his sweetheart is usually sealed with a kiss. To us this seems the natural thing to do, but other nations have different ideas.

The Turkish lover bows low, his hands crossed reverently on his breast. This is a dignified farewell compared with that of the amorous Japanese, who, on leaving his sweetheart, removes a slipper and brandishes it in the air! Lovers in New Guinea have the pleasing habit on parting of exchanging slabs of chocolate, while the lovesick man of the Philippine isles vigorously rubs his sweetheart's cheeks before leaving her.

English Bird Sanctuary

Selsdon sanctuary for birds and flowers which is being handed over to the National Trust comprises 120 acres of beautiful woodland in the chalk hills of Surrey. There are no fewer than 73 different kinds of birds in the sanctuary. This district, which is but 12 miles from the metropolis, is rapidly developing, and the committee of the Commons and Footpaths Preservation society, who are the prime movers in the scheme, recalled the prime minister's words emphasizing the need of sanctuaries if any of the wild life of the country is to be preserved near to the large and growing centers of population.—London Mail.

BEARCATS ARE HUNGRY BUNCH

TAKES A LOT TO FEED FOOTBALLERS AT CAMP.

ARE BUSY ENTIRE DAY

Coach Lawrence Says He Has Many Occupations at Football Camp Over Near McFall.

Hunting squirrels from sun-up, breaking horses, a good signal practice with the oval in the hot sun in the afternoon, fishing for a few hours to supply the table and then consuming ravenously about 8 o'clock, the afternoon's catch, is an example of a day's schedule for the dozen and four Bearcats and their two coaches in pre-season football training on the Grand River, three miles southwest of McFall.

And by the time the mess kits are washed the aspirants for the 1925 football team of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College do not hesitate to wend their way to one of the six army tents and crawl between the blankets for a profound sleep.

And who wouldn't be?

Just a climb up and down the bluffs from the tents to the river a few times would cause large vacant places in the abdominal regions of even the most tenderest tenderfoot.

It must be handed to Skipper Lawrence that he selected a wonderful spot for a camp for his Bearcats to camp out this week, and the place is blessed with an everflowing spring down near the water's edge, which is cool and refreshing the twenty-four hours of the day. The opinion is expressed by those who visit the camp for t he first time that H. Frank Lawrence, athletic director and head coach at the Northwest Teachers institution, had the instincts of an Indian guide to find this secluded spot, the trail leading to it being in such a premature stage that "only an aged Ford" should be permitted to seek entrance. The tents are pitched ideally high up above the river, and back of them about 300 yards is a flat place that serves for the football field where the Bearcats have been going through practice in the hot sun each afternoon until all of "poisons stored up during a three months' vacation" are boiled out.

Some of the boys last night were telling how they had tried, almost in vain, to find a comfortable position to sleep at nights, as the hot rays of the sun had burned deep and Gordon Joy was exhibiting some "nice blisters on his shoulders."

Yesterday afternoon Captain Kyle Phares limbered up his Cadillac, and accompanied by Mrs. Phares, E. V London, Howell England, Leslie Whitehead and a representative of the press, took a jaunt over to High Point where Coach Lawrence, Coach Jones and the sixteen Bearcats are camped, and arrived in time to enjoy a fish dinner out of army mess kits.

When asked how his camp suited him Coach Lawrence said "just fine, only I have too many occupations." And at that time the fish were being fried under the guiding hand of Mr. Lawrence and Coach Jones had just put on a huge pan of fried potatoes. Johnny Ashcroft failed to show up at the last minute to accompany the boys as cook, and it was up to all of the Bearcats to take a hand at getting the meals.

Sam England, captain of this year's football team, was soon seen near the cook tent. Sam left Maryville Tuesday morning on foot, bearing a heavy knap sack with High Point as his destination and said he walked only ten miles of the sixty. Captain Phares took a saddle and bridle along with him as J. W. Williams, owner of the farm known as "High Point" has some horses that had never tasted a bit until this week when the Bearcats undertook to break a couple of the steeds and on one occasion, a stirrup was broken.

"Mosquitoes bothered only one night," was the comment of the boys, but the visitors found a few in the vicinity of the Bearcat camp that had evidently been to college.

Coach Lawrence said camp would break up this week-end, he could not say definitely at what time, but the boys would be back in time to answer first football call on the local gridiron next week.

14 KILLED IN WREGK OF CIANT DIRIGIBLE SHENANDOAH

was equipped with machine guns, whereas its sister ship, the Los Angeles, was constructed in Germany and flown to the United States under an arrangement of the Versailles treaty providing that it should be used only for non-military purposes.

While the Los Angeles has been in the custody of the navy since its arrival here, steps have been taken by capitalists looking to its leasing for commercial uses. The Shenandoah, on the other hand, has been used for extensive military tests in conjunction with units of the fleet. Machine gun armament was given her only a few weeks ago.

The Shenandoah was designed on the basis of the German Zeppelin L. 49 which fell in the Vosges during the war but all available aircraft information was utilized by a special committee of engineers and experts appointed by the National Advisory Committees for Aeronautics in drawing the plans, so that it represent a modification of the Zeppelin design with many American ideas utilized.

Built at Lakehurst, N.J., from parts made at the naval aircraft factory in Philadalphia, the huge craft was placed in service in September, 1923, at the ZR-1, its construction having required two years. Subsequently, on Navy day, October 27, 1923, it was christened the Shenandoah, an Indian name meaning "Daughter of the Stars." The following are its dimensions:

Length, 681 feet.
Diameter, 78 feet.
Height, 96 feet.
Gas capacity, 2,115,000 cubic feet.
Total lift, about 130,000 pounds.
Dead weight, about 75,000 pounds.
Speed, full, 60 miles per hour.
Power plants, five 6-cylinder 300 horsepower engines.
Crushing radius, without stopping, 4,000 miles.

The most eventful experience of her career was in the night of January 16, 1924, when riding at the mooring mast at Lakehurst she broke loose in a terrific storm. The wind was blowing her over 60 miles an hour at the time but a sufficient crew was aboard to start the engines and maneuever her. Notwithstanding damage to the nose of the ship the craft in an all night battle successfully rode out of the storm and upon its slackening returned to Lakehurst.

The experience was hailed as demonstrating that the rigid airship need have no fear of the elements so long as it is in the air with an ample supply of fuel. The lessons, learned however, resulted in a new construction of the forward part of the ship to eliminate a possibility of a repetition of the incident while a complete overhaul was made of the craft.

Recently the Shenandoah has been used in maneuvers with the aircraft tender Patoka, which is equipped with a mooring mast, and in scouting operations with the battleship Texas off New Port, R. I., and the Virginia Capes.

TITLE GOLF MATCH IS ON

QUALIFYING PLAY SHOULD COMMENCE AT ONCE.

HAVE MANY CLASSES

Rules Governing the Championship Tournament Given Out Today By Tournament Committee.

The time has rolled around again to decide the champion golf player at the Maryville Country Club. Every year since the Maryville Country Club has been in existence a tournament has been conducted about this time of year that has aroused the interest of all the golfers.

This year the tournament committee has devised a system to place the players in a class according to the score they make in a preliminary contest and the members of the committee are eager to have all the members of the club take part, as each member will be given an equal chance.

A nine-hole medal play-off is necessary for each member to participate in so that the rankings can be secured and then the contestants will be paired according to the score they make.

The title limit for the qualifying round is September 15 and after that time hole play will commence in earnest to decide the champion.

Rules Governing Tournament

There will be sixteen players in each flight and enough flights to take care of all players who care to play in the tournament.

To determine the flight in which the player shall play each individual must play a nine-hole medal play round with another player and hand in his card signed by the other player to Colonel Allen.

The first sixteen lowest scorers will play in the championship flight, the next sixteen in the President's flight and so on until all players who have turned in a score are placed in some flight.

The actual tournament is to be a eighteen-hole match play which means that you play your opponent for holes rather than for total strokes. The finals in each flight shall be a thirty-six hole contest, the winner of the championship flight being considered the champion of the Country Club for the year 1925.

The time limit for the qualifying rounds is September 15, so that everybody please play their qualifying rounds and turn in their score cards on or before the fifteenth of the month.
